INTRODUCTION

You didn't build your business to become a full-time content creator.

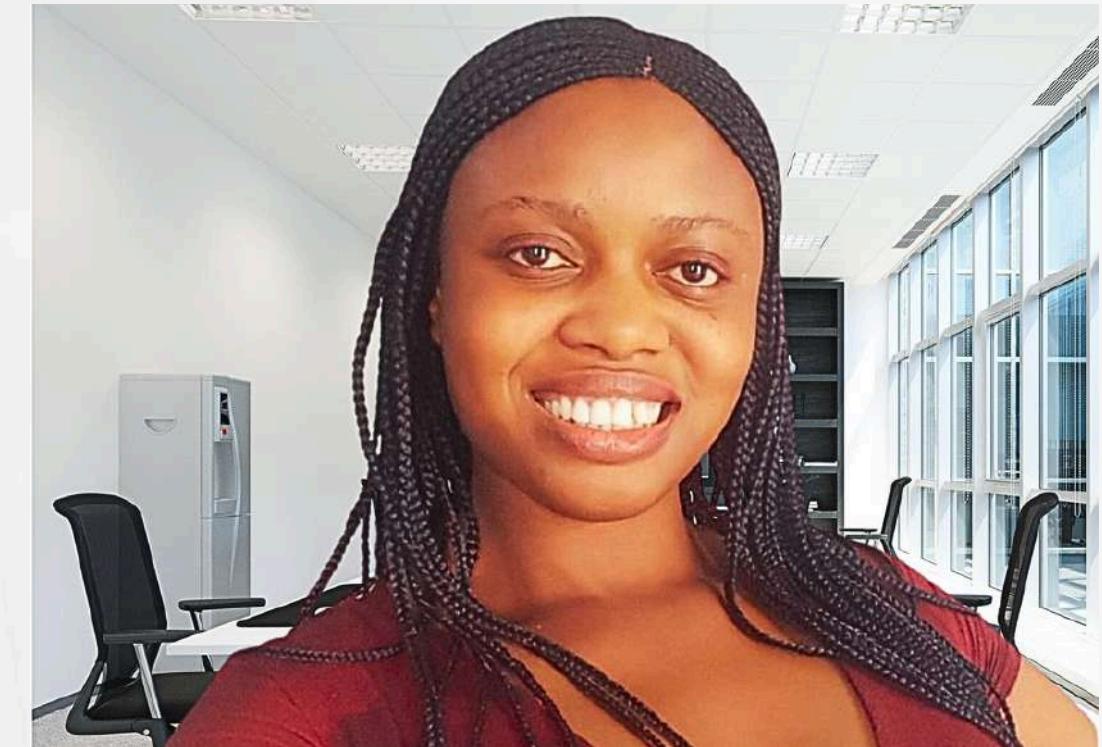

You didn't start out hoping to spend your evenings trying to sound "visible" online, second-guessing your messaging, or forcing yourself to post just to stay relevant.

Yet here you are — with real expertise, real experience, and real results — but a public presence that doesn't quite reflect it.

You know what you do works.

You just struggle to translate it clearly, consistently, and convincingly in a crowded digital space.

You are smart and capable but this part? It's not your zone of genius and that's okay.

You lead the vision.
You build the business.

I help you turn your expertise into a clear, credible personal brand that attracts trust, conversations, and clients — inbound.

No noise. No content chaos.
Just authority-led visibility that works quietly in the background.

Social Media Ad Copy

INVENTUM ONLINE BRITISH SCHOOL

COPYWRITING

Inventum, a British online school offering Cambridge IGCSE and A Levels, had minimal visibility in the Nigerian market. With rising dissatisfaction in the local education system, there was a clear opportunity—but also a need to educate parents about why Inventum was the better choice.

VIEW AD CREATIVES

MY STRATEGY

To introduce the brand and attract the right audience, I launched a Top-of-Funnel (TOFU) awareness campaign focused on education-first messaging to target parents and their biggest concerns and desires for their children. [thanks to market research]

EXECUTION

I developed a high-impact carousel ad titled “7 Reasons Smart Nigerian Parents Are Switching to Inventum.” The copy was crafted to connect emotionally with parents by addressing their pain points, showcasing Inventum’s unique values and painting a clear picture of the transformation their child could experience.

The ad drove traffic to a structured lead funnel designed to collect contacts and initiate personal follow-ups through WhatsApp and email.

By leading with value and empathy, the messaging built trust and positioned Inventum as a premium, future-focused solution for ambitious Nigerian families.
